DEDICATION

WHEN September with its school bell rolled around, an outside observer might have seen throngs of excited students reluctantly returning to school. Looking closer, one saw, among those students, the faces of former members of P. H. S., our returned veterans.

To these students, who gallantly sacrificed the rightful years of their high school life that peace might reign and that they might bring a richer hope for freedom and happiness to each of us, we wish to pay tribute.

And so, we, the members of Pulaski High School, dedicate our 1947 Oriole to the Veterans of World War II, who through their presence in our school life have given us a better understanding of the meaning of world peace.

PREFACE

P. H. S. has been proud to welcome back this year the returning veteran. These highly respected students proved their worth in places, both far and wide, all over our globe; this year they proved their merit in school life.

Our artist has shown the veteran in the four phases of the annual. The changes in his uniform are representative of the stages through which he has passed in adapting himself to school life.

The veteran is truly one of the integral parts of the machinery that makes up P. H. S.

Our Principal

MR. WILLIAM R. GARLAND

THIS year we welcome to Pulaski High School a new principal, Mr. William R. Garland, who came to us well recommended from Fishersville, Virginia.

Mr. Garland is a native of Virginia, having been born in Buchanan County. During his life he has worked in various states and communities. He was awarded his B. A. Degree from Roanoke College. Work on his M. A. Degree was done at Madison College, University of Mexico, University of North Carolina, and Peabody College, the latter where he received his degree.

He is well liked by all the students, and it is largely through his efforts that the school as a whole has become a school of which to be proud.

P. H. S. was fortunate enough to have added to its ranks this year the largest group of veterans ever assembled beneath its roof.

Having served in almost every conceivable part of the globe, these fine boys brought with them high ideals of sportsmanship and fair play.

It would be difficult to say what they have done for the school life of P. H. S., but it is certain that their contributions will not soon be forgotten.

FOUR years ago when the seniors of '47 were entering high school with anxious and excited faces, they had hopes that their class would some day lead the school more successfully than any other class before them. They didn't know then that they would have the honor of having among them a group of World War II veterans, who added much to the success of their senior year.

Their sincerest thanks go to all their high school teachers; but especially to Mrs. Friel Quesenberry, Mrs. Luther Farris, and Mr. Foy Aust, for their excellent guidance during their senior year.

May was the outstanding month of the senior year. Beginning with the senior play, the activities followed in quick succession—the prom, complete with receiving line; the banquet at the Woman's Club; the baccalaureate services at the Methodist Church. But climaxing them all came the realization of everyone's ambition—graduation.

Although each senior leaves the corridors of P. H. S., the memories of pleasant hours well-spent within her walls will remain with them.

ONLY three years ago these juniors entered P. H. S. as freshmen. Since then they have worked long and hard. Nevertheless, we still think of them as the "jolly juniors."

The juniors have participated in much of the social life of P. H. S. and have been very active in the school clubs. The junior prom, which was held in January, was a success.

They have been capably led by their homeroom teachers, Miss Ruth Simpson, Miss Mildred Witten, Mrs. Isabelle Jordan, and Mrs. Colleen Massey.

As they come one step closer to graduation, these "jolly juniors" are looking forward with much anxiety to their senior year.

THE members of the Sophomore Class of '47 were a little more settled than they had been the year before as freshmen. As sophomores, they became more used to the idea of being in high school and became good fellow classmates.

All their joys and sorrows were shared with their home room teachers, who were Mr. Earl Crabtree, Mr. Walter Griggs, Miss Katherine Stokes, Miss Emma Gallimore, and Mrs. Nancy K. Dobyns.

The sophomores worked exceptionally hard for their averages and will, undoubtedly, be well rewarded for all their efforts in the future.

THE Freshman Class of '47 is a group of "Happy-go-lucky" students without whom the school would not be complete.

Since that early day in September when they began their high school careers, they have become a real part of the school and have become used to the studying and other activities.

They have been capably guided by the following teachers: Mrs. Thelma Sanders, Miss Elizabeth Painter, Miss Laura Dalton, Miss Clara Sue Bedwell, Mrs. Delle Wilkerson, and Miss Anne Bane.

Though Mr. Jack Russell resigned soon after the beginning of the second semester, the freshmen feel that he contributed much to their welfare.

The freshmen are looking forward to their future years of high school with enthusiasm as they begin the climb toward graduation.

The president of the council, Donald Scott, and the vice-president Betty Jean Hall, were elected by the student body. The secretary, Jeanne Kegley, and the treasurer, Iris Sutphin, were chosen by the council, which consists of all club presidents and homeroom representatives. Mrs. Colleen Massey was chosen sponsor.

In addition to selling second-hand books at the beginning of the school year, the council sponsored the annual Farmer's Ball, which was a great success. The council also furnished the school with an amplifying system to be used for dances and various other purposes.

The success of the Student Council was due directly to the splendid cooperation between the faculty and the students.

All financial worries were in the hands of our capable co-business managers, Doug Mabe and Frank McAllister.

The staff was well supervised by Mrs. Friel Quesenberry and Mr. Foy Aust, whose helpful suggestions proved invaluable.

Center: Buddy Ratcliffe.
Bottom: Don Malone, Bobby Tester.

THIS year's team was composed of three veterans of which two were lettermen, Sam Lowman and Harry Byrd Humphrey. To their strength were added four lettermen from last year, Captain Doug Mabe, Bobby Tester, Donald Malone, and Buddy Ratcliffe.

Doug Mabe was elected captain of the quintet at the end of last year's season and played the very active position of forward.

The first string was composed of Donald Malone and Bobby Tester at guards, Doug Mabe and Sam Lowman at the forward slots, and Buddy Ratcliffe at the center position.

The team rated as one of the top four teams in the tournament at Blacksburg. In the resulting fierce clash with Fieldale High, our chances for championship were blasted by a close score, 31 to 32. However, we were partly rewarded by the naming of Sam Lowman to the second string district team.

Such a team will live long in the memory of P. H. S. students.
